

OLA HAWAII PILOTS

Ola HAWAII Team-Science Pilot Projects Program is to provide modest funding on a competitive basis to early-stage and early-career investigators, post-doctoral fellows, medical residents and subspecialty fellows who propose meritorious research on the science of minority health and health disparities.

Grant funding is intended to support investigators pursuing promising pilot or preliminary research ideas to advance minority health that are likely to mature into larger federally funded, independent research in the future. Ola HAWAII also is committed to helping communicate research findings to community and policymakers.

Ola HAWAII is a federally funded Research Center in Minority Institutions (RCMI) NIH/NIMHD U54MD007601

Save the Dates

AUGUST 1, 2024

Call For Abstract Release Date

INFORMATIONAL WEBINAR

August 23, 2024, 12-1pm

ABSTRACT DUE DATE

September 12, 2024

PILOT FUNDING PERIOD

June 1, 2025 - May 31, 2026

For more information on pilot funding and the webinar, follow this QR code

For for information, contact
Kathryn Braun, kbraun@hawaii.edu or
Eunjung Lim lime@hawaii.edu